This workshop will provide the strategies for effectively engaging and treating adolescents within Muslim families. Strategies for building rapport and addressing the stigma of mental health and substance abuse treatment, and up to date research to increase understanding of the American Muslim youth, will be provided. The impact of the interplay of religion, culture and identity on adolescents as well as intergenerational conflicts with parents, and the role of substance use and other risky behaviors will also be presented.

Zaynab Khan, Psy.D., psychologist at Rutgers University CAPS (Counseling Center).

Go to www.sascorp.org to register for any of our summer trainings (click the "New Training Information" link and then click the "Online Registration" button). Or fax the registration form below to 914-366-8826. To receive CEUs you must arrive on time and attend the entire workshop. No partial credit.

Space is limited. No confirmations will be mailed.
